

Curriculum Vitae

Prof. Dr. Juliane Besters-Dilger

Education

	Study of Romance and Slavic studies in Freiburg, Cologne, and Grenoble
1987	PhD in Slavic linguistics (“summa cum laude”) at the University of Freiburg
1990	Habilitation at the University of Freiburg, Venia legendi “Slavic Philology”

Professional Activity

1978–1985	Research assistant for the German Research Foundation (DFG) project “Church Slavonic Dogmatics,” Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures of the University of Freiburg; concurrently: adjunct lecturer in Russian language at the University of Freiburg
1988–1990	Academic coordinator, then head of the research staff at the Berlin Academy of Sciences in Berlin (West), today: Berlin-Brandenburg Academy of Sciences and Humanities
1 January– 30 June 1989	Habilitation scholarship from the DFG, six-month sabbatical granted by the presidents of the Academy of Sciences
1990–1994	Managing director of the Center for French Studies of the University of Freiburg (an interdisciplinary teaching and research center)
1992–1994	Guest lecturer in Slavic linguistics at the University of Basel
1 October 1994– 30 June 2007	Chair in “Russian Linguistics” at the Department of Slavic Studies of the University of Vienna
1 July 2007– 30 September 2014	Chair in “Slavic Philology” at the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures of the University of Freiburg
since October 2014	Vice-President for Academic Affairs, University of Freiburg

Research Abroad (longer than one month)

July– August 1995	Research in Moscow
August– September 1996	Research in Karkiv and Kyiv
November– December 2000	Research at the University of Prague (with two guest lectures)
February– April 2003	Research in Lviv, Kyiv, and Moscow
April– June 2003	Research at the University of Oxford (with two guest lectures)

Other Offices and Responsibilities (selection)

since 1995	Member of the Commission for the Slavic Literary Languages of the International Committee of Slavists
June 1997– September 2000	Member of the Senate of the University of Vienna
July 1998– March 2001	Chair of the Senate Committee on Evaluation
1997–2007	Member of the Balkan Commission of the Austrian Academy of Sciences
1 January 2000– 19 November 2003	Head of Department (resignation due to activity for the FWF, see below)
January 2001	Offer of C4 professorship at the University of Gießen – rejected in May 2001
5 March 2003– 12 September 2005	Appointment as vice president of the Austrian Science Fund (FWF), responsible for humanities and social sciences
2004–2007	Member of the Commission on Social Anthropology of the Austrian Academy of Sciences
2006–2007	Member of the Office of the Ombudsperson, University of Vienna
since 2006	Member of a panel of the European Research Council on the awarding of ERC Starting Grants
since 2008	Member of the Commission on Sociolinguistics of the International Committee of Slavists
October 2009– September 2015	Member of the advisory board of the FWF (Austrian Science Fund)